Sir:

Referring to the Ordinary expense account of your predecessor for the month of June I desire to inquire as to the necessity for the purchase of the Ajax Coining Press which I find charged therein, and whether the price paid $12,500 - was reasonable or excessive. The purchase was made from the Orr Hess Machine Co. who have two other bills in the same account for castings, annealing plates, grate bars, draw bench chains, repairs to machinery, labor &c.
